

The poppy plant is the source of opium, harvested from the bolls that form after the flower is fertilized.

Poppy flowers generally have four or more petals.

No proper coloration; although red poppies are most common, poppies also are found in other colors including orange and yellow.

Source: Le Blason Des Armoiries.

Artist: Jérôme de Bara. (Page 81.)

Poppy Flower In Profile 7.414