

A tool used by surveyers and astronomers to measure angles to distant objects.
Found in the original arms of the Worshipful Company of Plumbers.
Adapted from John Sellers's Practical Navigation (1672).