

A circle divided into two comma-shaped regions. Widespread in East Asia.
Often referred to as the “yin-yang symbol.”
No Default orientation. Typically argent and sable.