

Complex line with a semicircular profile. Conflicts with other “jagged” lines.
An ordinary blazoned “engrailed” looks like it has “cups” or concave indents taken out of it, while one that is “invected” has pointy indentations driven into it.