

A marker placed on the staff of printed music to indicate the position of the notes.

The G clef typically is shown as a stylized letter G with a swirl attached above it.

Adapted from images of sixteenth-century French musical notation.

Artist: Gunnvôr silfrahárr.